Data Export - Access2Oracle [Latest] 2022

A Java-based tool created to export MS Access(95, 97, 2000, XP, 2002, 2003) into Oracle(8, 8i, 9, 9i, 10g) database. If you have some data to export into Oracle that was stored in Access, Data Export - Access2Oracle is the right tool for you. MS Access provides a good structured data. You can access this data directly from SQL statements, SQL statements using queries, and even from Access queries. Export tables from Access into Oracle and import data back into Access is a good solution when you have lots of data to be transferred. Data Export - Access2Oracle is completely written in Java and can be deployed on any platform with Java VM (1.4.X, 1.5.X, 1.6.X), which includes Microsoft Windows, Novell Netware, Apple Mac OS, Solaris, OS2, UNIX, and LINUX. Data Export - Access2Oracle includes a wizard, which allows you to set convert options for each table visually (destination filename, exported fields, column types, data formats, and many others). The wizard has many options to help you in the export process, like the following:

- Select the number of exported rows and columns per table
- How to export data in order of tables (tables, sheets, rows or columns)
- How to export metadata into Oracle Database
- How to export data rows (one to many)
- How to export to specific database or schema
- Options to export metadata columns (table name, column name, field type, field length)
- Options to export fields from a database as a comma-delimited file
- Choosing the field delimiter (character)

If you find this tool powerful and easy to use, please write a review! Microsoft Access is a powerful app for creating and maintaining databases.
