The new "HyperMotion" engine is built on the basis of the "Real Player Motion" engine, but there are dozens of key gameplay changes that we'd like to share with you. Some of these changes were already previewed at EA Play but you can now have a better insight into FIFA 22 by checking out the official website, here and here. Pro Player 2.0 (Pre-Match) Depending on how you play football and the side you are on, the pre-match phase could be either the most exciting and challenging or the most boring. "Pro Player 2.0" will allow you to customize how your players feel before kick-off and helps you to define the key moments of the match. FIFA a proud creator of football; we provide the game's engine with all the relevant data to produce the most realistic and challenging game possible. "Pro Player 2.0" is a revolutionary way of controlling your player and the entire simulation. During the pre-match phase, you'll be able to select a difficulty, customize the "Control Style", "Emotional Style" and "Tactics Style." This allows you to change how all your players feel and play. Something new to try in the pre-match phases is the "Sudden Death Mode". This is where you have four minutes to solve a tactical puzzle and score a winning goal. "Sudden Death Mode" will reward you with a higher goal-scoring capacity, more accurate shots and more accurate passes, allowing your players to better replicate what a real-life footballer would do in those critical moments. "Pro Player 2.0" allows you to completely define your players before kick-off and affects how they feel and how they play in the match. The customization process is much more intuitive and easier to understand, as you can set different options for each player and also for the whole team.
