In most cases, Elements is good enough to replace Photoshop for basic photo editing tasks and making web graphics. It has the option to save directly as JPEG or PNG format, so, it is an ideal alternative for people who do not want to pay for Photoshop, but also need some of the basic editing and picture-saving features. This tutorial will show you how to make a simple photo effect using basic Photoshop tools and techniques. Steps Create a new document at the size of 550 pixels wide by 550 pixels tall. Make sure the background is set to Color and not Grayscale. Make a new layer over the background. You can add a drop shadow by pressing Command + Shift + D. Set the layer to Soft Light and adjust the settings as shown below. Choose a small, medium, or large rectangle with a radius of 0 to cleanly remove the shadow. Now, choose the Brush tool. Set the hardness to 10 and the size to 250 pixels. Adjust the settings as shown below. The brush should be positioned above the shadow area and it should follow the shadow perfectly. Now click inside the shadowed area and drag the brush down to the bottom of the photo. Press and hold the Alt key. Keep holding the Alt key, while dragging the Brush tool. You can see the shadow is removed and you can begin to see the highlight on the face. Let go of the Alt key, then move the brush into the highlight area. Repeat steps 5 to 7 for the second shadow and for the highlight. Steps Press the Forward key to move the foreground ahead. You can move the foreground ahead as you like, but keep in mind that it will always be the same distance behind the subject. Press the Backward key to go backward. Now, let's make the face seem bigger and more cheerful. Make a new layer and call it Outer. Duplicate the Inner layer and name it Inner. Move the Inner layer to the top of the stack and hide it by selecting it, pressing Command + H. Now, group both layers together by selecting both layers, and pressing Command + G. Make a new layer over Inner, name it Face. Scale the Face layer up so that the entire background has the same amount of cropping. Select the Face layer, press Command + T to transform, then crop the top 388ed7b0c7
