Starry Moon Island 2 Tank Advance MP06 Features Key:

13 separate character classes, each with its own unique set of abilities, skills, and abilities
6 choices of level type: PvP (Online Versus Players), PvE (Player vs Environment), or a solo story campaign
Bases with 8 force-fields per level, 3 force-fields in the starting base and 2 in the hero space, 4 in the road and 4 in clearing space, and 3 in clearing space
Core rules designed to be accessible to a wide variety of players of all experience levels, even novices!

- Move Aard: Hero rules take the place of the Move Aard rules provided in many roleplaying games.
 - MOVE AARD will be the decided winner of this TU rivalry.
- Character PVP narrative and purpose updates. The rules are more granular than the one given in The Hero System 2e book, but only cause more problems. We have found a balance.
 - CHARACTER PVP will be decided by Elimination.
- ACTION STANCE keeps everything simple for new players and easily recognizable for veterans. Gamemasters will start players in the AUX stance, which is what the original Hero System had them in and adds a few mre arcane powers.
 - SPATIAL MOVES will be pretty familiar, but may need a little explanation.
- The player will choose 4 of their six starting ability dice as "Hyperspace Dice" not rolled. If they have three or more successes on their Hyperspace Dice, they get one extra extra-hyperspace,
 - Move control (to use it on an action, weapon, or environment). This is why the rules are spelled Hyperspace not Hypershack.
- ACTION STANCE will not be used past the ACTION STANCE. RULES EPILOGUE will now be used.
- ANY OF THE CHARACTER CLASSES you choose may be played with SUPPLEMENTARY ABILITY CORDS (SACs) that are NOT the abilities you know as CPY

The Safari Cafe Band's "Gardens Of Eden" Safari Cafe Soundtrack composed by Ben Moody and the Safari Cafe Band Written by John Goodall Moody played the acoustic guitar and the ukulele and played the sound effects of nature guitar solo Moody played the ukulele Moody played the sound effects of nature guitar solo video filmed and edited by Dan Cannon (1771.com) Music by Ben Moody The grand opening of Safari Cafe, the restaurant which inspired the song. The Safari Cafe Band was organized and backed by singer songwriter John Goodall, in 1993. The Band consisted of two ukuleles, a mini-moog, an old tube radio, a special microphone, a guitar and a grand piano. Safari Cafe is a BBQ Restaurant and Lounge located in historic Sausalito, California. It is a fun, luxury, family-oriented restaurant and watering hole, which was inspired by Goodall's love for the traditional Australian foods and drink found at the Queensland State Fair. Together with partner Mark Anthony Goodall, John has developed and continued to provide a unique blend of great food, entertainment and experiences for an entire generation of patrons. It has been widely heralded as a destination restaurant in Marin County, California, but it was originally a popular local restaurant located in neighboring Sausalito. Safari Cafe was originally located at 40 Dunne Street in Sausalito, California, and opened its doors in February 1993 in what was at that time a converted rooming house. Coincidentally, it took on its name at the same time that the good man and woman who had run the rooming house had pushed through the renovation of the area next to the railing and had transformed the Back Bay into the area popularly known as Seaman's Wharf today. The romantic building had been the location of the following popular local eatery: "The Rosalie Cafe" a fish-and-chips restaurant, also known for its reasonable prices, excellent food, pleasant atmosphere, and pleasant service. John and Mark were friends with some of the employees of "The Rosalie Cafe" and quickly decided to bring their own vision to the cuisine of Sausalito.
